

Mediterranean Marine Science

early view

New records of rarely reported species in the Mediterranean Sea

COLLECTIVE ARTICLE B

doi: 10.12681/mms.30420

To cite this article:

ARTICLE B, C. (2024). New records of rarely reported species in the Mediterranean Sea . Mediterranean Marine Science. <https://doi.org/10.12681/mms.30420>

New records of rarely reported species in the Mediterranean Sea

1) First in situ observation of the deep-sea cirrate octopus Opisthoteuthis calypso in the Mediterranean Sea

Pietro BATTAGLIA, Teresa ROMEO and Silvestro GRECO

Accepted: 19.04.2024

2) Here it comes another thermophilic species: Pachygrapsus transversus (Gibbes, 1850) (Decapoda: Grapsidae) is spreading northern in the Tyrrhenian Sea

Valentina TANDUO and Fabio CROSETTA

Accepted: 21.04.2024

3) First record of Lobotes surinamensis (Bloch, 1790) from the Strait of Gibraltar
Andrea SPINELLI and Francesco TIRALONGO Accepted: 08.06.2024

Andrea SPINELLI and Francesco TIRALONGO

Accepted: 08.06.2024

4) First record of Imperial blackfish, Schedophilus ovalis (Cuvier, 1833) in the Syrian marine waters, Eastern Mediterranean

Ranim Mohamad OTHMAN and Mohamad Younis GALIYA

Accepted: 15.07.2024